NexGen Containers & Shelters Expands into New Facility

Manufacturer investing $100,000 in new location

NexGen Containers & Shelters, a specialty manufacturer of ISO containers and shelters for both commercial and defense applications, invested $100,000 in its new 25,000 square foot manufacturing facility located at 7251 Cross Park Drive in North Charleston.

NexGen's products include dry and refrigerated ISO containers as well as expandable containers of various sizes and configurations. NexGen also builds various modular shelters. NexGen's Personnel Transport Module (PTM) Shelter for the Navy hovercraft fleet is a flat-pack modular shelter that can handle extreme loads and harsh environments. The PTM Shelter is about 900 square feet, can accommodate up to 180 people and is equipped with ventilation, lights, and seats.

Beginning with five employees in 2016, NexGen Containers and Shelters has more than doubled its workforce and is hiring quality management, production technicians and other positions. To learn more about NexGen Containers & Shelters and view open positions, please visit NexGenContainer.com.
